Cowboys, cowgirls, or anyone who enjoys the western culture in any way – even if you just like good old western movies or country music – you will enjoy Cowboy Church. Simply put, Cowboy Church is a come-as-you-are, relaxed church atmosphere with faith-based ministry straight from the Bible. Steve Edwards, pastor and mule trainer, and Better Horses Radio's very own Rusty Rierson strive to eliminate "religious and man-made barriers" and just get down to the basics found in God's Word.

There are no steeples, no stained glass and no padded pews; just a group of ordinary folks who care enough to get to know you and help encourage you in your walk with the Lord.
